Renews Calls for Settlement

BONN, Germany (AP) — President Habib Bourguiba of Tunisia has renewed his call for a peaceful settlement of the Arab-Israeli conflict.
"The fact that for nearly 20 years the people and responsible leaders of the Near East have been unable to make progress on this question does not speak in our favor," Bourguiba said at a luncheon Tuesday given by West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard.
The Tunisian president outraged other Arab leaders with a similar proposal in April 1965. Bourguiba arrived Monday for a four-day state visit.

Memorial to the Late Pope John

WROCLAW, Poland (AP) — A marble cornerstone was laid here Tuesday for a memorial statue of Pope John XXIII with the blessing of Poland's Communist government. Only 1,400 persons turned out in contrast to the many thousands that usually attend events sponsored by the Roman Catholic hierarchy.
The Archbishop of Wroclaw last Sunday called it a government attempt to split the Polish church.

Red Missiles Get 3 More U.S. Planes

By ROBERT TUCKMAN
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — North Viet Nam's anti-aircraft defenses shot down three more U.S. Air Force planes — one a radar ship packed with electronic equipment and jamming gear — as American pilots ran through another barrage of missiles and sighted more Communist MIGs, the U.S. military command announced today.
The twin-jet RB66 reconnaissance plane with a crew of six was the second of its type reported lost in the war. The other planes brought down in raids Wednesday were both single-seat F105 Thunderchief fighters, bringing the announced toll of American aircraft over the Communist North to 298.
All eight airmen were listed as missing.
The North Vietnamese fired off nine Soviet-built surface-to-air missiles and American pilots sighted six Communist jet fighters, the U.S. command said.

There was no report of any clashes with the enemy planes.
Under the U.S. command's usual reporting policy, there was no announcement whether the planes were lost to missiles or conventional ground fire.
The RB66 was hit about 70 miles north-northwest of Hanoi, while one of the Thunderchiefs went down on a strike 60 miles north-northeast of Hanoi, a U.S. spokesman said.
The location of the other loss was not immediately announced.
Seven American planes have been reported shot down in the Vietnam war. On Tuesday, a missile knocked down one U.S. plane and a MIG17 got another. American jets encountered a record barrage of 29 SAMs.
She Wanted to See the Flipper
MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — More than anything in the world, Cathy Wainwright, 7, wanted to see Flipper, the television porpoise.
She got her wish Monday. Flipper performed just for Cathy in Miami, where the television series is filmed.
Cathy and her family drove all the way from North Carolina to see Flipper. It cost $600, raised by their neighbors

Cathy's right arm was amputated last month because of cancer. Doctors said she would live less than a year unless the arm was amputated right away.
But "after the operation the doctors told us not to get our hopes too high," said Dennis Wainwright, 26, Cathy's father. "The operation may have been too late."
"We didn't know what to say or do. I asked Cathy what she wanted more than anything else in the world. She said she wanted to see Flipper."
Earliest traces of genuinely human existence on earth found so far are at most 600,000 years old.

HOPE B AND PW HILLBILLY JAMBOREE

Hope Business & Professional Womens Club had a Hillbilly Jamboree at Ma and Pa Mudgett's "Hillbilly Haven" for the July picnic meeting.

Members and guests came dressed for the occasion with each assuming a hillbilly name for the evening. Lena Maryman was selected for the most original costume.

The W. A. Mudgett backyard echoed a backwoods atmosphere with effective colored lighting, red and white checked table coverings, rustic candleholders, and clever directory signs.

Elvira (Mary Jo) Ross and Jethro (Norma Jean) Delaney, welcomed the group with mountain dew served from the still.

Velora Bright, president, presided over an evening program that tickled and filled the innards.

Special entertainment was presented by Eeky Bo Spunkwater (Opal) Hervey, String bean (Mary) Andrew, Saree Sue (Velora) Bright, Elvira (Mary Jo) Ross, Ozroe (LeVeta) Mouser, Jethro (Norma Jean) Delaney, Granny Lou (Belle) Mudgett, Gomer (Mabel) Ward. A humorous group pantomime introduced the hillbilly characters in style. The group swung a special Virginia Reel.

Mabel Ward provided a hillbilly version of bingo with appropriate prizes awarded to Cora Evans, Georgia Foster, Ora Mae Moody and Abbie Breeding.

The club finance committee planned and prepared picnic dinner and party. Those on the committee are Opal Hervey, Chairman; Mary Andrews, Co-chairman; Ina Jean Brown, Norma Jean Delaney, Louise Griffin, LeVeta Mouser, Belle Mudgett, Mary Jo Ross, Sue Sparks & Mable Ward.

Guests attending were Mrs. Abbie Hutchens, Mrs. Royce Weisenberger, Mrs. Y. C. Coleman, Phyllis Dillard, Mrs. Hazel Castle, Hope; Mrs. Tom Middlebrooks, Ashdown; and Georgia Foster, Ohio.

Children with active minds enjoy making puppets for their neighborhood plays. Characters are unlimited. For a good start check local library for scripts. The youngsters take over from there and write, produce and stage their own shows.

WHERE FRIENDSHIP ENDS. . .

Dear Helen: My girl friend's boy friend and I have always been good pals. Around school we confided in each other often, did homework together. We say each other often, never once thought about dating.

It might sound strange, but we had a perfect relationship. My girl friend doesn't like to do nutty things like sing while walking down the street, or climb a tree to watch the birds; and he and I do things like this all the time.

Last night we were walking home from the library and we started talking about love and what it should be. We agreed it should be listening to the other's problems, liking the same things, wanting to be together for the job of being together not just to spend money on going places.

You guessed it. I very naively exclaimed, "Why that's just how I feel about you." Then I realized what had happened — all of a sudden we were no longer two friends, but boy and girl walking in the dark.

We said no more, not a word. I'm really shook, Helen. What to do? My girl friend doesn't like him that much; it wasn't ever really serious between them. She isn't the problem — I am. I'm afraid I've lost a good (male) friend. I don't know whether I'm in love with him because I don't know what love is supposed to be, but I do know I need his friendship more than anything—College Bound

Dear C.B.: The best kind of love is based on friendship. Keep on climbing trees together but add a snifter of "Me Jane, you Tarzen." He'll get the message. — H.

HOT BLOOD CHILLS MOTHER

Dear Helen: I'd like to know what's wrong with an American girl dating a part-Italian boy? He is out of school, working steady, but boy and girl walking in the dark.

We said no more, not a word. I'm really shook, Helen. What to do? My girl friend doesn't like him that much; it wasn't ever really serious between them. She isn't the problem — I am. I'm afraid I've lost a good (male) friend. I don't know whether I'm in love with him because I don't know what love is supposed to be, but I do know I need his friendship more than anything—College Bound

The stained glass artisan? It took "The Longest Day" to bring that ambition to fruition. In Paris, during the filming of the picture, he studied the stained-glass windows in several of the cathedrals. Upon his return, he bought varieties of glass, and now creates megalanes and constructions which we have around our home.

He learned to dance, and I think quite well, while appearing in "Music Man" in New York.

When he first came to Hollywood, he went down to the ocean and one day later bought a 58-foot ketch. One more dream had bitten the horizon.

The bee man and virtuoso winemaker? His ambition to "grow" honey didn't turn out that well. There's a photographer in town who still clutches his head in memory of a layout where an important part of the scenery went berserk. The bees went all over the neighborhood on a merry stampede. Only because Eddie had previously invited many nearby homeowners over to share the finished product, we weren't forced to move away.

Eddie had always harbored the thought of making wine. As luck would have it, he ran into a friend who taught him how to cask the stuff.

Students Are Greeted by President

By KELLY SMITH
WASHINGTON (AP) — Running, screaming students from overseas pursued President Johnson around his back yard. With a cagey detour he outwitted them, then returned for more.

Shrubs were flattened, Cedar limbs were broken. Flowers were smashed.

Johnson strolled to the south lawn of the White House Wednesday to greet 3,086 American Field Service students from 59 countries. The teen-agers return home this weekend after a year in the United States.

The students were ready. Cameras were up, pencils out.

The President, Lady Bird and daughter Lynda walked to a makeshift bandstand amid clapping, cheers and wolf whistles.

He spoke briefly, urging the young people to seek peace, fight poverty, ignorance and disease and work toward world understanding.

"I have been assured that you are future leaders of your countries — future prime ministers and lawmakers and First Ladies," he said. He left the platform amid more cheers. Ropes holding back the students sagged and Secret Servicemen closed in around the President as the future prime ministers surged forward.

"Here! Here!" they shouted, reaching for his hands, showing cameras toward his face. White House police tried to push the crowd back and student chaperones appealed for order. It was too late.

The President and his party made their way across a vine-covered hillside, apparently headed for his office. Hundreds of the teen-agers followed in hot pursuit. Two students lost shoes. One was knocked off her feet.

Police pushed the students back toward the south lawn, behind ropes. Turning unexpectedly, Johnson headed back toward another segment of his 3,086 young visitors.

This sent the rear detachment of the first onslaught running breathlessly toward him. Security tightened. One officer wiped his brow. Another refused to let those with passes into normally approved areas, shouting, "This is an emergency!"

The President seemed to relish the attention. He nodded, grabbed hands and smiled in-

He walked alone down the driveway toward his office as police held the students behind the ropes. Halfway there, he turned toward the still cheering young people and watched them a moment as if contemplating victory.

Emily Suzanne Davidson, Miss Henderson, is performing in the evening gown division. She lives at Nashville.

Brooks Hits Homer in Oriole Win

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Detroit Tigers have a sick manager, a sick acting manager, and a sick shortstop. Right now their pitching staff isn't exactly the picture of health either.

Baltimore continued to punish the Tiger staff Wednesday, pounding Denny McLain and two successors for 16 hits in a 10-7 triumph that extended the Orioles' American League lead to 10½ games.

Detroit Manager Chuck Dressen is recuperating from his second heart attack in two years and now Acting Manager Bob Swift and All-Star shortstop Dick McAuliffe have been hospitalized with bacterial food poisoning.

McLain, who pitched three perfect innings in the All-Star game, was ripped for home runs by Brooks Robinson and Doug Powell as the Orioles lapped out an early deficit.

In 5 1-3 innings pitched since an All-Star break, McLain has been tagged with two losses in three games. During the five-game slide, Detroit pitchers have given up 33 runs, an average of more than 10 per game.

Frank Skaff, handling the Tigers in the absence of both Dressen and Swift, saw Detroit jump into a 3-0 lead and then rally for a 7-5 lead but it wasn't enough against the fired-up Orioles.

Powell and Robinson each drove in two runs and scored three. Jim Northrup had a homer and double for Detroit, driving in two runs and scoring three.

Elsewhere in the American League Wednesday, Minnesota downed Washington 3-1, Chicago beat Cleveland 6-3, New York blanked Kansas City 4-0 and California and Boston split a doubleheader, the Red Sox winning the first game 6-1 and the Angels taking the nightcap, 1-0 in 10 innings.

In the National League, New York edged San Francisco 3-2 in 10 innings, St. Louis whipped Atlanta 6-3, Cincinnati swept a doubleheader from Chicago 5-4 and 5-1, the second game called after seven innings by darkness, Philadelphia defeated Houston 13-9 and Pittsburgh defeated Los Angeles 8-5.

Moe Drabowsky pitched four hitless innings of relief for the Orioles, striking out eight of the 12 batters he faced.

The loss left the second-place Tigers closer to eighth place in Kansas City than they are to front-running Baltimore.

The Athletics slipped into eighth behind New York when Mel Stottlemyre blanked them 4-0. Tom Tresh homered for the Yankees who won their fifth straight.

Newton Bid for No Hitter Just Misses

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Pinch hitter Ed Moxey bounced a double with two out in the eighth Wednesday night to spoil Leo Newton's bid for a no-hit, no-run game but Arkansas won 3-1 and swept a doubleheader with Amarillo.

An Arkansas protest had paid off when the Travelers won a game that had gone to Amarillo 3-2 but was reversed on grounds a photographer can't be ruled to interfere. The Travelers took this one 9-2.

Moxey's hit took a bad hop and bounced off the right ear of third baseman Bobby Dews, scoring Elijah Johnson from second base, but Arkansas got two in the bottom of the eighth to win the nightcap.

Arkansas' victory on the replay of the protested game saw Frank Montgomery, who had been the losing pitcher in the original version, getting the decision.

Elsewhere in the Texas League, El Paso took a doubleheader from Dallas-Fort Worth, 5-4 and 4-2 and Albuquerque beat Austin 3-2.

First Game
Doyle, Coombs (3), Fullen (5) and Hoffman; Montgomery and Zeller. W — Montgomery (9-9). L — Doyle (3-10). Home Runs — Amarillo, Rader (3), Deras (5).

Pro Stars May Hold Out for Money

By TED MEIER

Associated Press Sports Writer

It is beginning to appear that some pro football stars will hold out for more money this season. John Brodie, star quarterback for the San Francisco 49ers and a 10-year veteran of the National Football League, didn't report as scheduled Wednesday.

Another NFL veteran, end Daris McCord, left the Detroit Lions' training camp.

Both want more dough to play this season. Brodie reportedly is asking more than $50,000 and is referring all queries to his attorney, John Elliott Cook of San Francisco.

"I am at the complete mercy of my attorney," Brodie said at the home of his father-in-law in Hawaii. "Anything I say or do has to be directed by him."

McCord joined guards John Gordy and Ted Karras and tackles J.D. Smith and Roger Brown on the Detroit absent list.

Russ Thomas, director of player personnel for the Lions, pointed out that "big money was kicked around" before the recent merger of the NFL and the American Football League, effective in 1970.

"The bonus money a few rookies got stirred things up more and the veterans are saying, we're going to get some of it."

Brown said he wants an adjustment to the three-year contract he signed last December with Detroit or "I won't play at all."

There was no report of salary troubles from the other clubs in the NFL and AFL as they started training for the pre-season pro exhibitions that will be in full swing within a few weeks.

The Chicago Bears held their first full-scale scrimmage at Rensselaer, Ind., and fullback Andy Livingston scored a touchdown on a 30-yard end sweep.

Fullback Jerry Hill got two TD's in the Baltimore Colts scrimmage at Westminster, Md.

Lance Alworth's spectacular leaping catches of forward passes drew applause at the San Diego Chargers' camp in Escondido, Calif.

Success Has Not Spoiled Nicklaus
By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Success hasn't spoiled Jack Nicklaus, who will tee off today in the PGA's Golden Anniversary Tournament seeking his third major title of the year and the ninth of his short, illustrious career.

Success has given the 26-year-old Columbus, Ohio, clouter an opportunity to pace himself so that he might remain one of the world's premier golfers for years to come.

"No more than two tournaments in a row, if I can help it," said Nicklaus, who this year completed his grand slam when he captured the recent British Open.

A couple of years ago Sam Snead remarked that Nicklaus would burn himself out at the pace he was going. Nicklaus pooh-poohed the remark at the time.

Now Jack is using a timetable which he claims will not only enable him to play better golf, but also to enjoy the game more.

"Nobody likes to do anything he doesn't enjoy," said Nicklaus, "and I can't enjoy playing golf week after week. The cut-down will not be drastic. Instead of 25 tournaments a year, I'll probably play 18, maybe 20."

"When it comes to the major tournaments, I want a week off before and a week off after."

"I've been asked if I've lost any of my incentive now that I have won all the major tournaments. The answer is no, I want to win 'em a 11 again. And I'd also like to win them all in one year."

"Maybe I'd be going for all of them in one year this week," said the man who won his third Masters in addition to the British Open, but fell short in the U.S. Open, won by Billy Casper in a dramatic playoff with Arnold Palmer.

U. S. Wins Pistol Fire Events
WIESBADEN, Germany (AP) — The United States has won both the individual and team championships in the center fire pistol events at the World Shooting Championships.

William Blankenship of Columbus, Ga., had 595 out of a possible 600 to win the individual crown. The U.S. foursome had an aggregate of 2,341 of a possible 2,400. Russia was second with 2,340.

No Harmful Side Effect From Thyroid Extract

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—I've taken thyroid extract daily for years. My doctor says I'll need it for the rest of my life. Are there any harmful side effects?
A—If your thyroid doesn't secrete enough of its hormone, you must continue this replacement therapy. There will be no side effects if the dosage is adjusted to your individual needs. Too large a dose would cause nervous irritability, palpitation and a feeling of excessive warmth in a room where others are comfortable.

Q—What are the symptoms of thyroid deficiency? Is it a common disease?
A—Too little thyroid hormone causes slowing up of mental and physical activity but in their milder stages these symptoms are hard to measure and may be due to fatigue and other causes. In a more severe stage your skin would get rough and dry, you would gain weight and your hair would become dry and brittle. All these symptoms can be controlled with carefully adjusted doses of thyroid extract.

Thyroid deficiency is not common but it is seen five times more often in women than in men and most frequently between the ages of 30 and 60. The deficiency may be congenital or it may be the result of removing too much of an overactive thyroid.

Q—How is the protein-bound iodine (PBI) test made? How does it compare with the basic metabolic rate (BMR)?
A—The PBI test is a measure of the protein-bound iodine in your blood. This and the radioactive iodine uptake test are simpler and more reliable tests of thyroid activity than the older BMR.

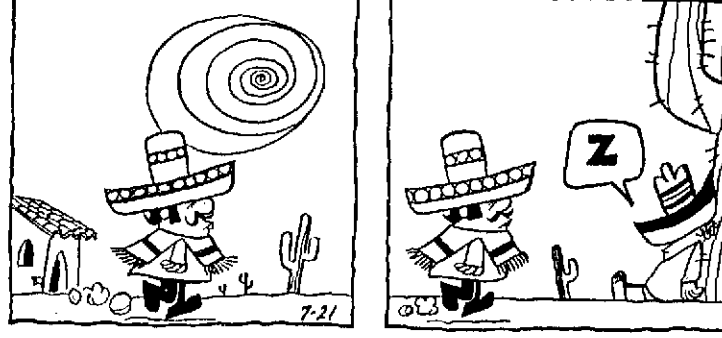

Q—On a recent PBI test my reading was 2.3. Is this high or low?
A—Since the normal range is four to eight your reading is low and, if persistent, would indicate that you need thyroid extract.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

THE BORN LOSER

TIZZY

by Kate Osann

WIN AT BRIDGE

By JACOBY & SON
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

After years of research we have finally discovered one rule of play to which there are no exceptions. This iron-clad rule is: "All rules should be broken on occasion."

There is nothing exceptional about South's six-heart contract or about the way he got there. West opens the queen of clubs and South notes that if trumps and spades both break he has a cinch. Otherwise he may have to fall back on the diamond finesse.

He takes his ace of clubs, draws trumps with three leads, and notes that East who dropped the deuce of clubs at trick one discards the three. Then South goes after spades. On the third spade lead West discards a small diamond so South is now faced with the prospect of a sure club loser.

There is no hurry about the diamond finesse. South plays a club to his king and throws West in with a third club.

West is holding the last club. If he leads it, he will give South a ruff and discard and West is well aware of the rule never to give declarer a ruff and discard.

He is also aware of our iron-clad rule as stated above. So he gives declarer the ruff

Eight Long Years...

Representative John E. Moss, Democrat from the Third District, California, became more and more incensed over the fact that thousands of documents were being withheld from the public by certain officials. These documents should have been made available to the people, through news media. Each year he has introduced a Freedom of Information bill to bring about release of this information, and each year either the House or the Senate has let it bog down. This year the Senate sponsor was Senator Edward V. Long, D. Missouri.

On July Fourth President Johnson, after eight long years, signed the bill giving the people the "right to know" what their government is doing. No longer can misguided officials from top echelons down make material on-available by marking it secret or top-secret, when in reality it has no relation to national security. The next step should be letting such a law passed for all encouraging step - slowly or surely we will recapture our own government from the bureaucrats. — Winter Haven (Fla.)

Wait, And Wait And Wait

Today's food shoppers who patronize supermarkets have every thing made speedy and easy for them - except for that long and boring wait at the checkout counter. No matter what the customer does to try and eliminate that waiting in line, no matter whether he has one item or a crammed shopping cart, he is foiled every turn.

If he shops on Monday, or any other slow day, the number of checkout lanes is reduced and there aren't enough bag boys - there is a line then. On a busy day, there are more checkers and bag boys, but still not enough. And on Fridays and Saturdays, no matter how many checkers and bag boys there are there still aren't enough.

According to an item in the South Railway's Agri-Business Newsletter, things will be even faster and speedier for shoppers in supermarkets in the future. A motorized shopping cart will follow the shopper like a trained dog. She won't have to push it. She'll merely carry a control console in her hand. Radar bumpers will keep the cart from running into people or damaging equipment. And for the shoppers in those super supermarkets who don't want to walk, there will be cartmobiles, operated by a simple handle control in which they'll ride and shop. And then doubtless speed to the checkout lane - and wait, and wait and wait. — Orangeburg, S. C.) Times and Democrat.

Murder Charge Filed Against Richard Speck

CHICAGO (AP) — Richard Speck, who is accused of slaughtering eight student nurses, was formally charged with murder Wednesday and conferred with his lawyer and a minister.

The Rev. David Peterson, 30, Lutheran minister, spent 20 minutes with Speck in the City Jail Hospital and told newsmen: "He is concerned about his relationship with God. I think that primarily was the reason he saw me. It was a very personal conversation."

The Rev. Mr. Peterson, pastor of the Irving Park Lutheran Church of Chicago, said Speck asked him to visit again today. The minister said he would if all authorities agree.

Speck, an itinerant seaman with a long arrest record in Dallas, Tex., was formally charged with murder and the hearing was continued to July 8.

The call for a minister was the first request made by Speck. Revival Planned at Spring Hill Revival services will be held at Spring Hill Methodist Church from July 24 through July 29. Services will be held each night starting at 7:30 o'clock.

Ohio Riots Claim Child and Mother

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—A 16-year-old Negro mother and her two children, including a 7-month-old boy, were among five persons wounded early today when police and troops opened fire on an auto about five blocks from the riot-ravaged Hough Avenue area on the East Side.

A National Guardsman also was hit.

Four-year-old Christopher Green was shot in the head and reported in serious condition at Lakeside Hospital. He was in surgery.

Mrs. Diane Towns was hit in the face and shoulder. Her son, Emanuel Towns, was shot in the leg. Ernest Williams, 12, the young woman's brother, also was hit in the leg. All were reported in satisfactory condition.

Guard Capt. James Pletcher of Lake Milton was hit in the leg by a glancing shot. He also was reported in satisfactory condition.

Hospital officials said Mrs. Towns was listed as the mother of both children.

The mother, her children and the brother were in the auto, police said. The driver, not immediately identified, was not hit, police said.

Police and guardsmen tried to stop the car at the scene of a fire that hit a dance hall and skating rink at East 107th Street and Cedar Avenue.

The building was destroyed. Damage was estimated at $100,000. Police said the fire apparently was the work of an arsonist.

Patrolman Sam Heney was seriously injured and three other policemen were hurt when two cruisers collided while rushing to the fire scene.

National Guardsmen and police had set up roadblocks at various intersections in the area to keep a lid on the battered Negro riot section after a night of widely scattered fire bombings and vandalism.

Johnson May Step Into Air Strike

By NEIL GILBRIDE
AP Labor Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The thunderhead of a complete breakdown threatened airline strike talks today, heightening speculation that President Johnson will step in.

"The hell with this thing!" snapped Vice President Joseph W. Ramsey of the striking AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists. "I don't know if we'll ever be back!"

An equally irked William J. Curtin, chief negotiator for the five strikebound airlines, said no tentative contract offer will be made for the union to present for a vote of its 35,000 strikers.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz said such a union vote would be pointless and a farce without agreement between the top negotiators.

The verbal storm clouds over the talks meant the two-week strike against Trans World, Eastern, National, Northwest and United airlines could extend to at least a month.

The union's walkout threat defied Johnson's plea for round-the-clock negotiations until a settlement is reached.

Johnson's only alternative appeared to be to call the negotiators into the White House for marathon sessions as he successfully did to settle steel and railroad talks in the past.

"We have no legal remedies left to us in the government," Johnson said at his news conference Wednesday.

He appeared to rule out any special emergency law such as Congress whipped out to stave off a threatened rail strike in 1963.

The Johnson and Wirtz remarks pressured the machinists' negotiators into delaying their 5 p.m. deadline Wednesday for taking a membership vote on whatever was the air-traffic agreement.

talks for the five days it would take to conduct the vote.

Negotiations flew apart again when Ramsey reset the deadline for noon Friday. The vote will be taken at union meetings next weekend in some 30 cities, Ramsey said.

"The union officers confirm the certain fact that the union vote will be negative," Wirtz said in sharply denouncing the machinists' plan.

Johnson backed Wirtz' statement that the union plan is intolerable.

Curtin said the airline negotiating team would be on hand for renewed talks called by Wirtz for today whether or not union representatives show up.

But he said the airlines would not be a party to the union's vote plan.

The talks, which never really got off the ground in the past two weeks, appeared at their lowest point.

The union is seeking hourly wage increases of 53 cents over a three-year period, while a special presidential panel recommended increases of 44-to-48 cents. Top-rated mechanics now receive $3.52 per hour.

"We would hope the parties would continue to bargain until an agreement is reached," Johnson said Wednesday. "The patience of the American people is being tried."

Ramsey said the prospects for ending the multimillion-dollar strike are "rather indefinite."

"We were tired of it even before it started," Ramsey said. "We regret we had to strike and inconvenience the public."

In addition to lost wages of the 66,000 idled airline employees and lost income of the five airlines that normally carry 60 percent of the nation's air traffic, businessmen in many parts of the country were complaining of a growing drop in business from tourists and other travelers.

Ask Restraint If Pilots Go on Trial

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sens. J. W. Fulbright and Leverett Saltonstall called today for restraint in any American retaliation if North Viet Nam puts captured U.S. pilots on trial as war criminals.

President Johnson offered at his news conference Wednesday a U.S. meeting with Hanoi officials on the treatment of war prisoners — or to discuss any other subject.

The President denounced threats to put the prisoners on trial as "deplorable." But he carefully avoided saying whether retaliatory measures might be taken.

Amid widespread predictions in Congress that prisoner trials would generate public demands for a full-out conventional war against North Viet Nam, Fulbright said this would be a "disastrous course" for the United States to take.

Fulbright, Arkansas Democrat who heads the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said, "If we start retaliatory action I'm afraid there would be no end to it."

"The history of warfare indicates that retaliatory action leads to barbaric conflict," he said. "I would hope that, at least, there will be no attacks on civilians in any action we might take."

Fulbright is a leading critic of Johnson's Viet Nam war policies.

Warns Trials Would Bring U.S. Reaction

By FRANK CORMIER
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, while carefully avoiding retaliation threats, "react accordingly" should Hanoi try downed U.S. pilots on charges of war crimes.

Asked about North Vietnamese threats that such trials will be launched, Johnson responded at a news conference Wednesday by saying: "I think the people of this country and the peaceful people of the world would find this action very revolting and repulsive, and would react accordingly."

Johnson twice skirted questions about possible American retaliation against any trials of the American prisoners.

A standing-room-only crowd of newsmen gathered in the brightly-lit East Room of the White House for the 35-minute conference, aired by television and radio networks.

Some other highlights:

Johnson said: "The patience of the American people is being tried" by machinist union members on strike against five airlines. "We have no legal remedies left to us" to halt the walkout, he said, but promised continued use of persuasion in an effort to effect a settlement.

The President expressed the opinion that the nation's white minority wants to see the Negro achieve equality "without violence." Deploping recent racial violence in the cities, he urged all citizens to stand for law and order.

Discussing his plans for the 1966 congressional election season, Johnson said he "will take advantage of every opportunity to go out into the country to discuss our program, our convictions, and to tell them what we stand for, and ask for their support."

Viet Nam dominated the give-and-take, with the issue of prisoner trials uppermost.

Referring to the pilots held by Hanoi, Johnson declared: "These men, who are military men, who are carrying out military assignments in line of duty against military targets, are not war criminals and should not be treated as such."

Once again, he called for a conference under Red Cross auspices to assure the prisoners of humane treatment under the 1949 Geneva agreements, which Hanoi claims do not apply to the present fighting.

Johnson reiterated, too, "our desire to engage in unconditional discussions" at the earliest possible date in an effort to end the war.

But he said: "We have not the slightest indication that the other side is willing to make any concession to take any action that would lead to the peace table."

Until there is such a sign, he said "we, of course, would not expect to tie the hands of our men in Viet Nam."

Collins Walks and Retrieves a Package

By HOWARD BENEDICT
AP Aerospace Writer

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — One of man's most exciting and significant space adventures reaches a blazing climax today when the Gemini 10 astronauts make a meteoric dive back through the atmosphere, bringing home a bundle of records.

Command pilot John W. Young, a Navy Commander, and space-walker Michael Collins, an Air Force major, planned to trigger the retro-rockets on their fuel-short spacecraft at 3:31 p.m. EST to start a fiery descent. The landing in the Atlantic about 550 miles east southeast of Cape Kennedy was timed for 4:07 p.m.

A recovery force of ships and planes headed by the helicopter aircraft carrier Guadalcanal was stationed in the planned landing zone, where weather conditions were reported good.

Until the re-entry, the astronauts were to drift through space, conserving their precious remaining fuel and conducting whatever photographic and scientific experiments they could.

They were ready to come home after three days aloft. In that period they had had the hatch open three times — twice for Collins' business outside and once to jettison items no longer needed.

Discussing that Wednesday night, Young commented: "We'd like to try for five — on the water. One on the left side, one on the right — no more, thank you."

Despite problems that forced Collins to cut short two space excursions, the flight of Gemini 10 was rated one of the best U.S. man-in-space trips yet.

"This mission is one of the most rewarding we've ever flown," commented Flight Director Glynn Lunney.

"John and Mike performed magnificently."

Lunney said Gemini 10 proved the feasibility of rendezvous with both an active and a passive satellite — the Agena 10 and the Agena 8; that man can survive outside a spacecraft, and that a manned satellite can dock with a fuel tanker in space for long periods and use its engine for maneuvering.

Navy Cmdr. Alan L. Bean, a Gemini 10 backup pilot, told newsmen the rendezvous with the lifeless Agena 8 was the most significant achievement.

"A year ago," Bean said, "we thought it was impossible to rendezvous with something that had been up there for four months — with no radar beacon or lights. That one thing alone gives us an impact of what has been done on Gemini 10. It was tremendous."

Young, who had been a rather untalkative astronaut during his first two days in space, expressed his exuberance when he pressed to within a few feet of Agena 8.

Petits Fours that Really Swing

JULY 4 IS COMING UP — Bake a cake, cut into oblongs, cover with frosting and roll in chopped peanuts. Result? Petits Fours for holiday guests.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

A LETTER from a 15-year-old girl tells me that during her summer vacation she wants to practice making Petits Fours. "But please, Cecily," she pleads, "give me an easy recipe that swings."

Well, here they are — Petits Fours that we believe any patient young cook willing to follow directions can make. These oblong-shaped little cakes are covered with an orange-flavored frosting and, just to give them swinging flavor, they're rolled in chopped peanuts. (When I was 14, my teens, I turned out many a batch of them for parties at our house.) If the widely available red-skin Spanish peanuts are used, the skins should be slipped off before the nuts are chopped.

PEANUT PETITS FOURS
3 cups sifted regular flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt

1 cup butter or margarine
2 cups sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
4 eggs, separated
1 cup milk

Orange Butter Frosting
3 cups chopped shelled peanuts (about 3 1/2 cups whole peanuts before chopping fairly fine)
1 can (11 ounces) mandarin oranges, drained
Grease and flour a 13 by 9 by 2 inch baking pan.
On wax paper, sift together the flour, baking powder and salt.
In a large mixing bowl, beat together until light and fluffy the butter, sugar and vanilla; add egg yolks; beat until thoroughly combined.
Stir in sifted dry ingredients, in about 4 additions and alternately with the milk, just until smooth each time; begin and end with dry ingredients. (Do not overmix or cake will have tunnels.) With clean beater, beat egg whites until they hold stiff straight peaks when beater is slowly withdrawn; fold into batter.
Turn into prepared pan. Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven for 40 to 45 minutes or until a cake tester inserted in the center comes out clean and cake springs back when lightly pressed on top.
Place cake in pan on a wire rack; let stand for 5 minutes; turn out; cool.
Trim crusts from sides of cake. Cut cake crosswise into 1-inch wide strips. Turn each strip outside up; trim strips to make each as high as it is wide. Cut each strip into 4 oblong pieces.
Thinly frost the 4 sides of an oblong with the Orange Butter Frosting and at once roll in peanuts; frost the top and dip in peanuts. Cover the rest of the cake the same way. (Reserve a little frosting for garnish.) Place

Embellishing a Famous French Dessert

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

SOME DESSERTS one never forgets.

We first tasted Oeufs a la Neige after watching the late and great chef, Louis Diat, direct its making in the vast and fascinating underground kitchen of the old New York Ritz.

Later we enjoyed this lovely, lovely dessert at Le Pavillon, New York's most famous French restaurant.

Now we count the fresh strawberry season lost unless we make the dessert at least once. If you try this recipe, you may become as nostalgic about Oeufs a la Neige as we are. Although here the custard sauce is not so rich as the French version, it is still a delicious accompaniment for the luscious strawberries and poached meringues.

OEUFS A LA NEIGE
3 egg yolks
3 whole eggs
1/4 cup sugar
1/8 teaspoon salt
3 cups milk, scalded
2 teaspoons vanilla
1 pint, basket strawberries, hulled and rinsed
Poached Meringues

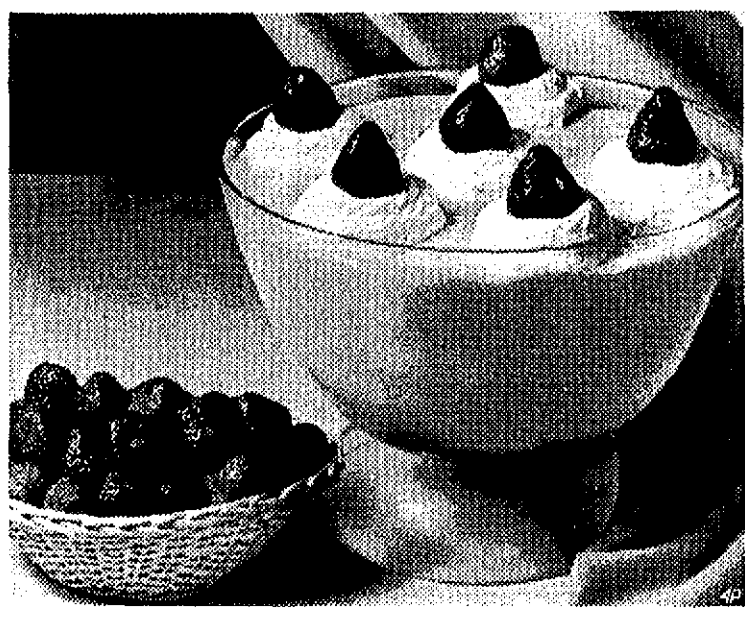

In the top of a double boiler, beat together the egg yolks, whole eggs, sugar and salt just until yolks and whites are combined. Slowly but vigorously stir in the scalded milk. Cook and stir constantly over simmering water (that does not touch bottom of upper part of double boiler) until slightly thickened and custard coats a metal spoon — about 10 minutes. Chill; stir in vanilla. (Makes about 3 1/2 cups.)

At serving time, reserve 6 small strawberries; slice the remaining berries into 6 dessert bowls. Ladle the chilled cus-ard sauce (a generous half-cupful for each) over the berries. Top each serving with a poached meringue; place a whole strawberry, outside down, in the center of each meringue.

POACHED MERINGUES
3 egg whites
1/8 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup superfine sugar

In a medium mixing bowl, beat the egg whites and salt until foamy; gradually beat in sugar, a tablespoon at a time; continue to beat until sugar is dissolved and meringue is extremely stiff. Fill a deep 10- to 12-inch skillet half full of boiling water; place over heat and keep water barely simmering. Using a large kitchen spoon, drop the meringue (in 6 even-size high portions) into the LONDON (AP) — Petula Clark, one of Europe's top girl singers, is thinking of living in the United States for six months of every year.

"The way my career is developing," she said, "it looks as though I'll be spending a good deal of time there — so why not live there half the year?"

She said her friends, British actor Anthony Newley and his wife Joan Collins, are looking for a house for her to rent on the West Coast.

"That way the children will have a base while I tour around," said Petula.

She has just returned to Europe from three months in the United States during which she appeared for two weeks at the Coconut Grove in Los Angeles and on a number of television shows. She also did a concert tour in Canada, where she was voted No. 1 French female vocalist last year.

For a British singer, that's some going.

But Petula is better known overseas these days than she is in Britain, where she was born 33 years ago. She made her first stage appearance at the age of 7 and her first broadcast at 9. As a child Petula made innumerable films and during the war years she was a radio star who reminded millions of British servicemen overseas of the little sisters and daughters they had left behind.

The child image followed her well into her twenties. "They bound down my bust to make me look flat-chested and 15," she said. "I was a late developer in more ways than one."

Eight years ago she went to Paris to cut a couple of records. During the recording session the lights went out. When they came on again, a tall, dark young man who fixed the faces was standing on a table in the shirt sleeves. He was the man Petula was going to marry.

His name was Claude. When he spoke in English and French, PETULA CLARK spoke no French. "It took us six months to get that sorted out so we could understand one another," said Petula. Then 18 months after they met, Petula and Claude were married.

Today they have two daughters, Barra (for Barbara) who is 4 1/2 and Catherine, 3, a rambling 10-room house on the outskirts of Paris that cost $112,000 and a converted farmhouse with swimming pool in the foothills of the Riviera.

"Now we're having a house built on the outskirts of Geneva, with Mont Blanc behind us and Lake Lemán in front," said Petula. Her husband, Claude, said it would cost $250,000 and it is finished later this year.

Petula is the first British singer to be named "Artist of the Year" by the United States in October for another two-week stint at the Coconut Grove and for a tour of university concert halls. She will also do another European tour.

Pirates Win Off Dodgers, Giants Lose

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer
The Pittsburgh Pirates are like a salesman. Let them get a foot in the door, and you'll find them buying their product.
The Pirates got good use out of a foot Wednesday night and promptly put their product on display for all to see. The Los Angeles Dodgers didn't care for any, but the Pirates were persuasive and wound up with an 8-5 victory.

The triumph, coupled with San Francisco's 3-2, 10-inning loss to New York, boosted the first-place Pirates one game ahead of the Giants in the National League pennant race.

The Pirates weren't having too much success with their selling tactics until they put the foot in the right place.

The foot belonged to Matty Alou and it, along with the rest of the league's leading hitter, stepped into the batter's box with two out in the seventh inning and the Pirates trailing 5-2.

Don Drysdale fired a pitch that was inside and low, very low. Alou tried to get away from the ball, and all but his foot was successful. The ball hit the foot, Alou went to first and the Dodgers went to pieces.

Five batters and two pitchers later, the Pirates had six more runs and one of their most enjoyable sales of the season.

Gene Michael and Roberto Clemente singled for one run, and Jim Brewer replaced Drysdale. After a wild pitch and a walk to Manny Mota that loaded the bases, Brewer left and Phil Regan came on.

Jose Pagan got in enough of a sales talk to tie the game with a two-run single, and Donn Clendenon closed the sale with a three-run homer into the left center-field bleachers.

In other National League games, St. Louis defeated

Atlanta 6-3, Cincinnati swept Chicago 5-4 and 5-1 and Philadelphia outslugged Houston 13-9. In the American League, Baltimore outlasted Detroit 10-7, Chicago stopped Cleveland 6-3, California nipped Boston 1-0 in 10 innings after losing 6-1, Minnesota trimmed Washington 3-1 and New York blanked Kansas City 4-0.

The Mets gained their fifth straight victory when Ron Swoboda led off the 10th inning with a homer against Bill Henry. The Mets had taken a 2-1 lead in the eighth on Roy McMillan's homer, but the Giants tied it in the ninth on a walk to Willie Mays, Jack Fisher's wild pitch and a single by Jim Hart.

Ray Washburn scattered eight hits and drove in two runs with a fourth-inning single for St. Louis. The Cardinals broke a 3-3 tie in the fifth on Mike Shannon's run-scoring single, his third hit off Atlanta's Ken Johnson.

Ernie Banks' 2,000th hit, a two-run double in the eighth inning, helped Chicago to a 4-1 lead in the opener, but the Reds rallied for four runs in the ninth, the last two on Tommy Harper's triple.

Cincinnati also won the seven-inning nightcap that was halted by darkness. Jim O'Toole pitched a five-hitter and received support from Don Pavletich's homer and Jim Coker's two-run double.

Cookie Rojas drove in four runs for Philadelphia with two singles and a double while Tony Gonzalez knocked in three with a single and a homer. Dick Groat added three hits to the Phillies' 20-hit attack, including a seventh-inning run-scoring single that snapped an 8-8 deadlock.

Ike, Romney Talk Things Over

GETTYSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and Michigan Gov. George Romney talked about 1968 but not about 1968, they say.

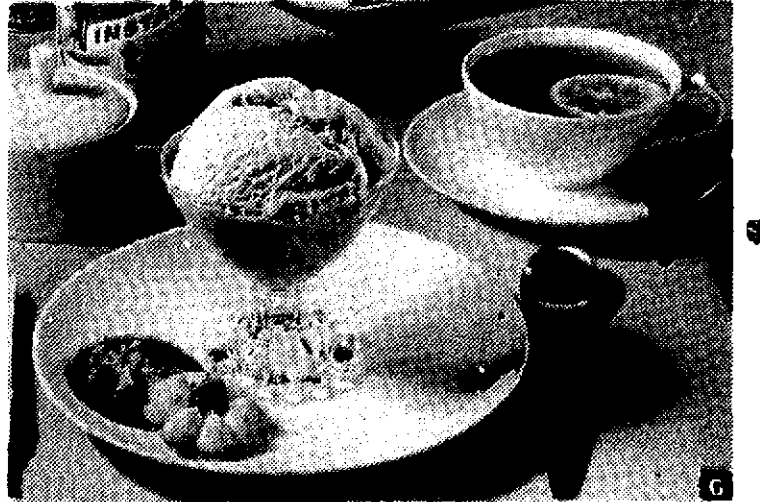

The former president said after the two men met Wednesday at his Gettysburg office that they hadn't discussed the 1968 presidential campaign. Romney has been mentioned as a possible candidate for the Republican nomination for President.

What they did talk about, said Eisenhower, was the 1966 election, in which he expressed hope "the governor will have the biggest victory ever."

HOW TO MAKE TEA ICE CREAM

Lively is the word for this new ice cream that is easy to make at home. Instant tea gives it a different flavor that's as sprightly as spring flowers. Make it the way they do at The Lipton Kitchens and you'll find the texture smooth and inviting. After any meal, tea ice cream is a great refresher. For an afternoon intermezzo, it's temptingly cool and light. For late hour interludes, it's a delight. And it's a breeze to make with convenient instant tea! Serve with cups of "brisk" tea and cookies.

EASY INSTANT TEA ICE CREAM

2 tablespoons instant tea powder
1 package (3 1/2 oz.) vanilla pudding and pie filling

1/4 cup sugar
2 cups milk
1/2 pint heavy cream

Combine Lipton Instant Tea powder, vanilla pudding and sugar in saucepan; then gradually add milk. Blend mixture well and cook directly over medium heat until it thickens and starts to boil (about 5 minutes). Cool. Pour into freezing tray and freeze. When partially frozen (about 1 hour) turn into chilled bowl and beat; gradually add heavy cream and continue to beat until thick and creamy. Return to freezing tray and freeze until firm. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Miss Arkansas Contestant Is Injured

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Miss Morrilton got only halfway through her song and dance, but won the talent competition in the first night of Miss Arkansas Pageant preliminaries here Wednesday.

Majorie Lee Stobaugh, 19, had finished a selection from "The Sound of Music" and was going into her dance routine when she fell to the floor.

The crowd of 1,700 didn't realize her plight until she said: "Help me please."

Bob Evans, master of ceremonies, rushed to her side and carried her off stage. She later underwent surgery at a local hospital.

Evans announced later in the show that Miss Stobaugh's left knee was out of place.

Officials of the pageant did not know immediately if she would be able to continue competition tonight and Friday.

Miss Little Rock, Patricia Gail Pugh, won the swim suit competition.

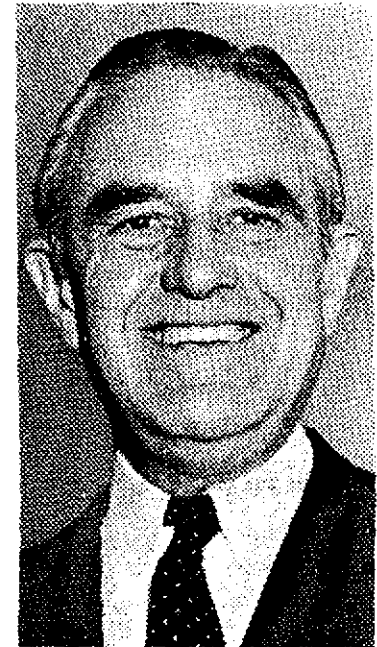

The 49 beauties seeking the Miss Arkansas title were divided into three groups to compete in talent, swim suit and evening gown preliminaries. Winners of the evening gown division are not announced.

Miss Pugh, 20, is from North Little Rock. She is blonde, has brown eyes, is 5-foot-6, weight-125 and has measurements of 37-24-37. She has attended Mississippi State College for Women for two years, but said she wants to complete undergraduate work at Little Rock University.

Miss Stobaugh is the first accident in the eight years that the pageant has been held in Hot Springs.

The pageant continues tonight with another round of preliminary competition.

Fresh Pear Pie Hits the Spot

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
 Associated Press Food Editor
CONFIRMED Pie fanciers owe themselves one of summer's fresh delights — Bartlett pear pie. So let's go.
 The following recipe differs from the usual two-crust pear pie. This dessert is made with a pastry shell, a filling of the pears and a streusel topping that includes coconut. If you try this rule, please remember that the pie is at its best when it is freshly baked and served warm.

STREUSEL PEAR PIE
 5 or 6 Bartlett pears
 1/3 cup sugar
 1 tablespoon lemon juice
 1 tablespoon butter
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1/2 cup flour
 Unbaked 9-inch pastry shell with high fluted rim
 Coconut Streusel
 Pare, halve and core the pears; cut each pear half into 4 lengthwise slices — there should be 6 cups. Into a large skillet (about 10 inches) turn the pears, sugar, lemon juice, butter and salt. Cover and cook over moderate heat for 8 minutes. Remove from heat.
 With a slotted or perforated spoon, remove the pear slices allowing the syrup to drain back into the skillet; reserve pears. Stir a little of the pear syrup from the skillet into the flour; return to remaining pear syrup in skillet; over low heat cook and stir constantly until thick-

FRESH BARTLETT PEARS make a delightful pie that boasts a Coconut Streusel topping.

COCONUT STREUSEL
 1/3 cup sugar
 1/3 cup unsifted regular flour
 3 tablespoons butter
 2/3 cup flaked coconut
 In a small bowl, stir together the sugar and flour; with a fork, cut in the butter. Use as directed in Streusel Pear Pie recipe.

Refrigerator-Rising French Bread

FRENCH BREAD, made by the refrigerator-rising method, will be all ready to bake just when you need to serve it.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
 Associated Press Food Editor
DEAR CECILY: I read with interest your recipe for refrigerator-rising bread. Now I wonder whether you have a recipe for French bread that can rise in the refrigerator. I often bake French bread the usual way for company suppers and always have a problem in timing so that it will be crisp and hot from the oven when I'm ready to serve. It seems to me that all home-made yeast breads, French bread is the one for which it would be most helpful to have a recipe using the refrigerator method.
DEAR MRS. L.R.: You asked for a recipe I wanted myself, and one which I believe is bound to interest many other cooks. So as soon as I ferreted out the following rule for Refrigerator-Rising French Bread, we tried it in my test kitchen, and I'm delighted to pass it along. This recipe makes two excellent loaves — their interior is more compact than regular French bread, but their crust is crisp. The baking may be timed so the bread will be ready and hot at the moment you want to offer it.
 — C.B.

REFRIGERATOR-RISING FRENCH BREAD

2 1/4 cups warm water
 2 packages active dry yeast
 2 tablespoons sugar
 1 tablespoon salt
 3 tablespoons butter or margarine
 5 1/2 to 6 1/2 cups unsifted flour
 Cornmeal
 Salad (not olive) oil
 1 egg white
 1 tablespoon cold water

In a large warm mixing bowl, dissolve the yeast in the warm water. Add sugar, salt and butter. Stir in 2 cups of the flour. Beat with a rotary beater (electric or hand) until smooth — 1 to 2 minutes. Add 1 cup of the flour. With a wooden spoon, beat vigorously until smooth — about 150 strokes. Work in enough additional flour to make a soft dough. Turn out onto a lightly floured board and knead until smooth and elastic — about 10 minutes. Cover with plastic wrap, then a towel; let rest on board for 20 minutes.

Punch down dough, divide in half. On a lightly floured board, roll each portion into a 15 by 10-inch rectangle. Beginning at the 15-inch side, roll up tightly toward you; seal edges by pinching together. Taper ends by rolling gently back and forth. Place loaves on a large greased cookie sheet sprinkled with cornmeal. Brush loaves with salad oil. Place plastic wrap over top of pans to cover loosely; do not tuck wrap under cookie sheet or loaves will be too tightly covered. Refrigerate 2 to 24 hours.

When ready to bake, remove from refrigerator. Carefully uncover the loaves; let stand for 10 minutes at room temperature. With a greased toothpick or metal skewer, puncture any gas bubbles that may have formed. With a razor blade, make 4 diagonal cuts on top of each loaf. Bake in a very hot (450 degrees) oven for 25 minutes. Remove from oven and brush with the egg white mixed with cold water. Return to oven; bake 5 minutes longer. Makes 2 loaves.

MEATBALLS WITH LEMON-OLIVE SAUCE

3 slices bread
 1 pound ground lean beef round
 1 medium onion, finely chopped
 1 teaspoon salt
 1/2 teaspoon pepper
 2 eggs
 Vegetable Stock
 3 tablespoons each butter and flour
 1/2 to 3/4 cup pitted ripe olives, sliced
 Soak bread in 1 cup cold water, squeeze out; mix bread with beef, onion, salt, pepper, 1 egg and the white of the other; reserve the egg yolk. Using 1/4 cup for each, shape mixture into 5 large balls. Drop into boiling Vegetable Stock; cover and simmer until cooked through — about 15 minutes. Remove meatballs and keep warm. Strain stock — there should be a generous pint; reserve. In a saucepan over low heat, melt the butter; stir in flour; add reserved stock and cook and stir until thickened and boiling. Slightly beat the reserved egg yolk; stir in a little of the sauce; stir back into saucepan. Add olives and meatballs; heat but do not boil. Add salt if necessary. Makes 5 servings.
Vegetable Stock: In a large wide kettle boil for about 15 minutes: 3 cups water, juice of 1 lemon (3 tablespoons), 1 medium onion (sliced), 4 bay leaves, 3 whole allspice, 8 peppercorns, 1 teaspoon salt. Leave standing 1 hour and use as directed.

Child Safety Begins in the Home

By AILEEN SNODDY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

(Clip and save the precautions listed here.)

Home Safety Checklist

PREVENTING FALLS: Be sure all small rugs are skidproof. Repair wobbly legs on all chairs, sofas, tables, beds and ladders. Mop up wet floors or spills immediately and use nonskid floor wax. Have well-lighted stairs, uncluttered and nonskid treads. Use barrier gates to keep toddlers from falling down stairs. Install grab bars in bathtub. Use nonskid mats in tub and shower.

HALTING FIRE ACCIDENTS: Have professional check of home wiring. Install inexpensive fire alarm system. Replace all frayed cords on electrical appliances. Protect open fireplaces with good fire screens. Never keep oily, paint-filled rags. Store inflammables in well-ventilated areas or throw away. Make sure no one smokes in bed.

PRECAUTION AGAINST POISONING: Store all cleaning agents, lye, weed killer, insecticides, drugs and medicines safely. Label all clearly. Study first aid techniques and keep manual in bathroom and kitchen where many children gulp down poisonous liquids and pills.

PREVENTING ELECTRIC SHOCKS: Urge children to dry hands thoroughly before touching any electrical connections. Keep all electrical devices away from bathtubs and sinks. Call an electrician to make repairs. Don't do it yourself.

PREVENTING SUFFOCATIONS: Keep bite-sized toys, pins, needles, nails and other small objects from small children. Avoid leaving the car motor running in a closed garage. Teach children not to play with stove knobs, especially gas. Throw away plastic garment bags not in use.

The grim statistic that bothers McBride and parents is that 70 per cent of the 16 million American children injured or killed in accidents last year were "at home."

Accidents claim more lives among children 1 to 14 than the combined devastation of cancer, congenital malformations, pneumonia, gastritis and enteritis and heart disease.

Infants too young to be warned about a safer approach to fun and games die from mechanical suffocation. This includes smothering in bed clothes or thin plastic materials. The urge for an infant to put anything he can into his mouth leads to hundreds of deaths as do fires, burns and falls.

Many more toddlers painfully survive pulling a pan of hot grease or boiling water off the stove onto themselves. Curious lads from 1 to 4 dart quickly into the street and their older, more daring brothers and sisters become prime victims of fatal automobile accidents while riding their bikes or running into the street during a ball game.

All hazards of living are just around the corner or across the room for any child. Yet, overprotection isn't the answer. Words of caution to youngsters and some reminders to parents to be alert to potential home dangers do help prevent many accidents.

of his car, but he can remember every word of dialogue he has ever spoken, and the detailed plot of every show he has made.

Because he lives on top of one of the steep Hollywood hills, local garbage trucks don't quite have the strength to make it to the top. So the Adams' garbage has to be taken to a rendezvous point part way down the mountain.

"I always hate to take out the garbage, but my wife seems to love to make me take it out. The last thing she says to me at night, and it's not too romantic, is, 'Don't forget to take out the garbage in the morning.' Just saying yes doesn't do it. She demands a sworn statement from me."

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Daniel Boone, the NBC-TV series approaching its third season, would appear to be on solid ground. But Fess Parker, who stars in the show and has an interest in the producing company, says this is the critical year.

"I hope we can survive," he said. "We have a few cast changes, which are caused by purely financial problems. We are sending our oldest daughter (played by Veronica Cartwright) off to school in Philadelphia. And Bob Logan won't be back."

"By the time a show gets to its third year, you are fighting escalation in all departments. It's a tough year. I

Screen Out Harmful Sun's Rays with Lotion

By PATRICIA KING

NEW YORK—(NEA)—What separates the dazzling from the passing-fair?

The greatest suntan ever!

You can be that barefoot girl with a chic tan if you soak in the sun's rays with a predetermined plan you can call your "sun scheme."

This means using a good sun-screening lotion and a sensible schedule for your tanning periods. Even a sun-tan preparation won't prevent burning if you try for a golden bronze in five hours.

A real tan fan needs the help of a suntan aid to encourage deep and even tanning. Lotions also have the advantage of keeping the skin soft and preventing drying.

Gals who turn their backs in the sun and ignore the scientifically prepared creams, oams or liquids are really asking for trouble and often produce anything but a glamorous tan.

More than likely they develop ugly patches of skin that resemble boiled lobster and not the vibrant beauty an all-over tan gives.

Along with your sun lotion did you also need plenty of it. A day or even a few days does not produce the

FOR A GLAMOROUS tan, sensible "baking" periods and the helpful aid of a good sun lotion will screen out harmful rays of the sun. Lotions encourage even tanning and keep the skin soft and moist.

Mary Brooks Picken on Sewing

Today's luscious printed fabrics are available in silk, nylons and cottons. Some of the cottons are so supple and attractive that you can scarcely tell them from silk.

A gathered skirt such as we show is easy to make in sheer fabric. You can make a 4-inch hem by turning the raw edge, stitching it, then slip stitching the hem to place.

The bodice should be completely lined and a lining of the same fabric used in the skirt. This will keep the color the same throughout.

There are two ways to hold the skirt fullness at the waistline.

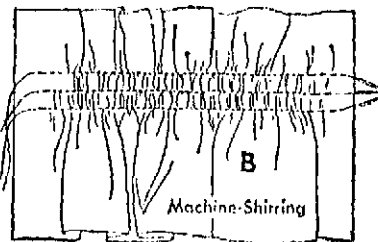

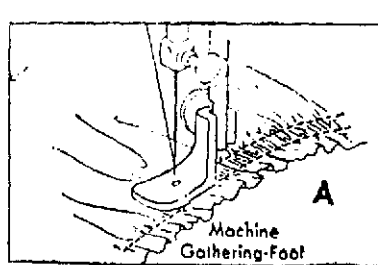

One is to use a machine gathering foot, A. Put in two rows of stitching, make stitches six or seven to the inch as shown. Then draw up the bobbin thread of both rows to bring the fullness into waistline size.

Notches at the waistline that divide the skirt into fourths make it easy to adjust the fullness to match center front, center back and side seams of the bodice.

When fullness is adjusted and the skirt is basted to position on the bodice, be sure to tie the gathering threads so they cannot pull out. A sure way is to thread your needle with the thread ends and take several back stitches over the gathering to make sure that all is secure.

"I ALWAYS DO BETTER WHEN I SHOP SAFEWAY"

Perhaps you have a neighbor who shops at Safeway and loves to talk about it. She brags about the quality of meat and produce she gets every time. According to her, variety is almost endless and prices are low. Safeway people, she says, go out of their way to give friendly and courteous service. She may have you thinking no store could be that perfect. But, if you haven't yet tried Safeway, please don't ignore everything your enthusiastic neighbor says. Come see for yourself. Who knows? You might become a Safeway booster, too.
